

You are invited!

The General Services Administration, the Canadian Commercial Corporation & the Organization of American States invite you to the Government Procurement Conference of the Americas.

This conference is the perfect opportunity for the heads of procurement for the countries of the Americas and their industry partners to gather together, share best practices, collaborate, view new technologies, expand markets, and plan for the future.

Registration is now open!

Attendees:

Some of the benefits of attending this event include...

- For industry, contact with top-level government procurement officials within the Americas, a forum to discuss opportunities for greater standardization of policies, and a trade show venue that provides opportunities for identifying potential business opportunities throughout the region.
- For senior government officials, a forum to meet with the senior procurement officials from other governments within the Americas and to share experiences and address common issues such as e-procurement, transparency, procurement regulations, and also to expand their supplier base.
- For other government participants, a forum to reach a supplier community, all the more important with efforts to integrate trade within the Americas, through both one-on-one meetings and an exhibit environment. In addition, the conference provides an important training environment.

Exhibit Information:

Apply to exhibit on the website at www.fgpca.org. If you have any questions please contact David E. Eckberg, CMP at 800-315-4333
